VOLUME 19

ISSUE 12

NOVEMBER 1993

The Halloween moon was full and spooky and slunk away behind the grey clouds that were hanging so low over the Bay that the radio towers and their lights were completely hidden from view. The mournful wail of the fog horns from Thomas Point and the Bay Bridge sent shivers up each sailor's spine. Two hardy boats scooted out of Rock Hall and fled south to Lake Ogleton with the following wind and chill dismal rain. The Schwings' HERON and the Cape Dory 30, LOON, that has replaced the former Flica, LOBO, in the Turner's life, dropped anchor in the lake and the crews came ashore to find a fantastic frolic in full swing in the clubhouse. The walls and ceilings were festooned with ghostly and ghoulish stuff, and the feasting guests were an alien and awesome bunch! Yasser Arrafat and a heavily bearded and robed terrorist, upon very close examination turned out to be Bruce and Jane Raymond, and the Sheik of Araby and his curvacious harem beauty, were only Adam and Elizabeth Canalungo in disguise. Joel Gross, sporting a marvelous red nose and Antique fireman's helmet, insisted that it was his "real face" as did CHANTEY's crew Tom Finnan. Beryl Flynn had grown a magnificent head of shocking pink curls, and wore some pretty casual attire (that must have come from Carol Burnett's scrubwoman) and the laden Goose Hunter with armpit-high waders, ducks and shotgun, was our own Mal Mellington. Louise told us that they had adopted a small cat, who was taking no guff from Lizzie and Honey Bee. Mal had the perfect attire for attacking the steaming and juicy lobster, shrimp and clams that awaited everyone...! Our hostesses for the night were a witch and a black cat, and they kept the rowdy crew in amazingly good order. The cat (Fayla) brought along "tomcat" (Ned) and they both attacked the scrumptious seafood in true feline fashion. The witch (Marge) brought along hubby, Paul, while George Thomas brought along a most attractive nautical belle named Clary. Judy Taylor was bedecked in pumpkins and Tom had a decidedly "Halloween" solemnity. With a VARROOOOM and a BOOM BOOM SCREECH two rockin' rollin' leather garbed motorcycle punks rode their "bike" right into the party! It was Brooke Perkins and Marilyn Henderson each with wild long black hair! Andy and Kathy Lewis were somewhere under some ghastly rubber masks, but we found them out when they had to take the masks off to eat! New members Donna Shuman and Mark Apter were celebrating their birthdays that night and Bill Shuman was bedecked in a "Safe Sex Suit"..... (sorry, I won't explain!) . BONKERS TWO had moved to her new home port that day, but a "rich witch" and her slightly pooped spouse made it to the party. Art and Fran Bertapelle of HALLELUJA and Logan and Will Hottle of ACOMES were delighted with the buffet table of gourmet offerings....the specialties of our CBC gourmet cooks. Noel and Carol Patterson were our only Bay Ridge representatives that night. Our Commodore ... bedecked appropriately... greeted each and every one with a snappy salute and pointed out his chest full of medals.. "for surviving the summer cruise... etc" while Jay was a most glamorous witch. An astonishing pair, a green can and a red nun, complete with the correct flashers on top, turned out to be Nancy Warner and Robert Lehner... in a true sailor's inspiration! When everyone had wine and dined and there was no room for even another bite of dessert... a spirited clean up had the clubhouse Bristol Fashion and Tom Finnan did a magnificent job of mopping the floor. Where did you get your expertise, Tom? Bill Shuman invited everyone to join a birthday party for Donna and Mark Apter and a group of real party people put a real crowning touch to a great evening by joining the birthday fun in Hillsmere. The Ghosties and goblins and wierd critters, were reluctant to end the evening, but the witching hour soon became the sleepy hour, and they drifted off to their lairs..... until next Halloween!

Noel and Carol Patterson have shared with us some terrific news! In the latest tests, Doctors have found no trace of cancer remaining in Marcia Outerbridge! The very experimental treatment she went through at NIH has been successful! There is still a lot of inflammation which she is being treated for, but the news is just so encouraging! It is wonderful to know that our prayers are being answered.

WE LOVE YOU, MARCIA !

AS THE SAILING SEASON DRAWS TO A CLOSE
AND COLD WINDS WHISTLE PAST YOUR
